Next Gen Prize

The Next Gen category is open to participants 18 years and under and encourages young artists to think about portraiture in a modern sense.

Traditionally, a portrait is a realistic portrayal of a head and face. But contemporary forms of expression have already stretched those boundaries. Does it have to be realistic? Can it be an impression of someone? Can it be a picture of their favourite thing? Or feature their favourite colour?

Entries in the Next Gen Prize do not have to be created from a live sitting, although it is encouraged.

Artwork entered can be a drawing or painting, but it does not have to be. Think digital, mixed media, or tapestry.

Entries Close - 1st July 2025
